

Case No. 20180100

Writ of Certiorari

The basis of this controversy lies within the plaintiff, Chief Justice Kit Erickson, seeking a total of $600 in damages from alleged violations of the defendants, Zach Berger, Jake Knight, Nam Luu, and Sanga Mohmand, which include withholding compensation from the plaintiff. The facts on which the Court has decided to hear the case include the appointment of Kit Erickson as Chief Justice in September 2016, and the subsequent lack of compensation paid to the plaintiff for his one-year appointment. Justices Bradley Ecker, Stephanie Castro, Richard Willie, Dillon Clark, Ariel Flores Mena, and Blake Bratcher have all voted to hear this case with authority from Article III Section 1.2.1.1. of Redbook, granting the Supreme Court “Original Jurisdiction over all controversies arising under the ASUU Constitution and Bylaws.”
